COURSE OBJECTIVES

The study of Economics is much more than a simple college course; it is an entire way of thinking and of interpreting the events of the world around us. In this course, we will learn how during class, reserving personal conversations for before and after class, and being courteous in interactions with others.

REQUIRED TEXT

Besanko, David and Ronald Braeutigam Microeconomics 4th Edition, 2011.

The text is available through the school bookstore. An older edition should be fine as well.

PREREQUISITES

Economics Prerequisites ECON 1000 or ECON 2010
Mathematics Prerequisites ECON 1078 and ECON 1088 OR MATH 1300 OR MATH 1310
OR MATH 1081 OR MATH 1080 and MATH 1090 and MATH
1100 OR APPM 1350 OR equivalent

This course will require the use of basic mathematical concepts including level algebra and calculus. I will provide a math review on the first day of class. If you still find these concepts problematic, please see me as soon as possible!

CALCULATORS

Cell phone calculators will NOT be allowed during quizzes or exams!!!

Do not ask me to use a cell phone calculator on an exam; I am being courteous; I told you so. (tor)12( ).04 Tf

NOTES

I do not, as a rule, distribute my lecture notes. If you must miss lecture for any reason, please be sure to obtain the notes from a classmate. I encourage you to come to office hours to discuss any of the material from lecture, but please be sure to take notes or obtain a copy from a classmate, read them over, and bring them with your Writing Assignment A writing assignment will be designed for you to connect the classroom to reality. An assignment sheet with more information and the due date will be distributed within the first week of the term.
