

2.

- Transfer students who began their college careers at different institutions that the University of Colorado Boulder could not have been aware of the requirements in section 1 above when they chose courses at those institutions.

- Therefore, while these transfer students should generally adhere to these requirements, they may request individual evaluations of their records from the Director of Undergraduate Studies. The purpose of this evaluation will be to design study plans that will achieve the objectives of the major most efficiently, from the perspectives of both the student and the department.
